Professional Summary

Entry-Level Full Stack Developer with practical experience in developing secure and responsive web applications using the MERN stack. I have worked on building REST APIs, implementing JWT-based authentication, and managing role-based access for different users. On the frontend, I focus on creating clean and user-friendly interfaces with React.js and modern JavaScript. I enjoy writing structured, maintainable code, improving application performance, and learning best practices through real-world projects.

Projects

1. Job Portal Web Application-MERN Stack | JWT | REST API | Role-Based Access Control :-

Developed a full-stack Job Portal application that connects recruiters and job seekers using the MERN stack with secure authentication.

Implemented JWT-based authentication with role-based access for multiple user types:-

• Admin:- Manage users, approve recruiters, monitor job postings, and oversee platform activity.

• Recruiter:- Post jobs, manage job listings, and view applicant details.

• Job Seeker:- Register profile, browse jobs, and apply for open positions.

Designed and developed RESTful APIs for user authentication, job postings, applications, and profile management

Built a React-based front-end with protected routes and role-based navigation

Implemented form validation, secure session handling, and authorization checks

Ensured a modular back-end architecture with separate layers for authentication, routing, controllers, and database models
